

¡RAZA!

Written by

Victor Adame

VictorARamirez8@gmail.com
(951) 801-0834

NOTE:

- A dash "/" in dual dialogue indicates when the next speaker should begin their line. Dashes indicate where the dialogue overlaps.

- Brackets "[]" indicate Spanish being spoken.

FADE IN:

INT. RAMIREZ HOME - LIVING ROOM - MIDNIGHT

Christmas decor offers a warm ambiance to the humble home.

TONY RAMIREZ (19) tears a gift open, finding a pack of plain black t-shirts -- same as the oversized one he's wearing now.

TONY

Who knew I needed these?

MARIANA (17) playfully slaps the back of his near-bald head. She's the baby of the family, with glasses and anime pajamas.

MARIANA

That's literally the last time I'm buying you anything.

TONY

I was being for / real.

LYDIA

/ Why does Nana always gotta
buy me Old Navy gift cards?

LYDIA (21) is the second-born with long acrylic nails and red-dyed hair. Her attitude is pungent.

JUNIOR (23), the oldest, is also there. He's well-built with a goatee. He looks intimidating, but he wouldn't hurt a fly.

MARIANA

You're so ungrateful, dude.

LYDIA

Well who the hell goes to Old / Navy.

TONY

/ You gotta be thankful. Like me.

JUNIOR

Man, you're just as bad as her.

TONY

She / wishes.

MARIANA

/ I hate that we didn't see
Dad this Christmas.

LYDIA

Why would you want to drive four hours through snow to a prison on Christmas?

MARIANA

Because I'm / considerate.

TONY

/ A few more months and he's free.